

PIKE COUNTY CHALLENGER

BASEBALL

For Kids With Physical and/or Mental Disabilities

Kids that have physical and/or mental disabilities can play baseball on a team in the Pike County Challenger Baseball League. We're looking for kids who want to play baseball.

The Pike County Challenger Baseball League is open to any player from age 5 on up who has a developmental disability.

Challenger players will play on the same fields, use the same equipment and wear the same uniforms (including jerseys, pants, socks and hats) as traditional teams.

The most fundamental goal of Challenger Baseball is to make friends. As our players make friends, we also play some baseball. Each player will bat every inning, and each player will play in the field. No score is kept and nobody is ever out. Beyond following basic safety rules, Challenger will adjust certain rules to the skill levels of the children playing. (For instance, players can be pitched to by a coach, or they can hit from a batting tee.) Challenger Baseball also provides for a "buddy" system (buddies are the main reason our players have fun!). Our buddies are young volunteers, between the ages of 10 and 20, who don't have a disability. The main goal for our buddies is to make friends as they assist our players on the field. For instance, buddies can push players who use wheelchairs around the bases after a hit, or help a player get a ball that gets past him or her. If you know someone who might want to be a buddy for Challenger Baseball, we could really use them at any game (or games!).

Challenger Baseball participants learn how it feels to pull together as a team and to be cheered. All Challenger players will receive trophies at the end-of-the-season picnic. Parents that have children playing Challenger Baseball have noticed marked improvement in their children's self-esteem, confidence, attention span, learning ability and physical skills.

The 2017 Challenger Baseball season in Pike County starts Saturday, May 6th at 10:00 am at the baseball fields at Bowling Green park.

Registration is $25 per player, but if this is not possible at this time, don't worry about it. Send your registration form anyway and come on out.
